FOSCARINI

Rituals conveys the magic of oriental rice paper lanterns in lamps made of traditional Venetian blown glass. A meeting between east and west, traditional and contemporary styles, poetic inspiration and technological research - this is the Rituals family of lamps, distinct but at the same time complementary. The surface incisions made by industrialising the traditional blown glass grinding technique creates a fascinating graphic effect on the lamps, whether on or off.

The largest shape - Rituals XL - multiplies the intensity and scope of the lighting effect while maintaining an airy lightweight feel. All models diffuse a full, warm and soft light into the room.

Description

Suspension lamp with diffused light. Diffuser made through "stationary" glass blowing technique: the striped pattern is achieved using a mould whose pattern is replicated onto the surface of the glass. The glass is then hand brushed and immersed in acid to achieve the "chalky" look. A matt transparent injection-moulded polycarbonate ring nut is incorporated into the glass. Matt transparent injection-moulded polycarbonate lamp holder support. Stainless steel suspension cable. Transparent electrical cable. Ceiling canopy with galvanised metal bracket and matt white batch-dyed ABS cover.
